

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT DISTRICT OF NEVADA

C.C.,

Plaintiff, vs.

JAMAL F. RASHID, et al.,

Defendants.

Case No.: 2:23-cv-02056-GMN-BNW

ORDER REGARDING SECOND MOTIONS TO DISMISS

Pending before the Court are six Motions to Dismiss filed by Defendants Radisson tality, Inc., (ECF No. 130), Highgate Hotels, L.P., (ECF No. 131), Wynn Las Vegas, (ECF No. 132), MGM Resorts International, Aria Resort & Casino, LLC, MGM Grand LLC, and Nevada Property 1, LLC, (“MGM Defendants”) (ECF No. 133), The Light o, LLC, (ECF No. 134), STK Las Vegas, LLC, The One Group, LLC, and The One Group tality, Inc., (“STK Defendants”) (ECF No. 135).¹ Plaintiff filed Responses, (ECF Nos.
43, 147, 148, 149, 150), to which Defendants replied, (ECF Nos. 144, 145, 151, 152, 153,
The STK Defendants also filed a Joinder, (ECF No. 154), to both Wynn’s Reply, (ECF 51), and the MGM Defendants’ Reply, (ECF No. 152). Lastly, Wynn filed a Motion for to File Notice of Supplemental Authority, (ECF No. 159). Plaintiff did not file a nse, and the deadline to do so has passed.

For the reasons discussed below, the Court GRANTS Defendants Radisson and The Light Group's Motions to Dismiss. The Court GRANTS, in part, and DENIES, in part, the ¹ The Court notes that Defendants Rashid and Tao Group Operating, LLC did not file Motions to Dismiss. The deadline for Rashid to file an Answer or otherwise respond to Plaintiff's Second Amended Complaint, (ECF No. 125), has passed. The deadline for Tao Group Operating, LLC to Answer or respond is currently set for July 12, 2025. At this time, the Court's conclusions in this Order do not apply to Plaintiff's claims against Defendants Rashid or Tao Group Operating, LLC.

1 Motions to Dismiss filed by Wynn, the MGM Defendants, and the STK Defendants. Further, 2 because the parties stipulated to dismissing Highgate from this action while its Motion to 3 Dismiss was pending, Highgate's Motion to Dismiss is DENIED as MOOT. (See Stip. Dismiss, 4 ECF No. 162); (see Order re Stip. Dismiss, ECF No. 163). Lastly, the Court GRANTS Wynn's
 5 Motion for Leave to File Notice of Supplemental Authority.²

6 I. BACKGROUND

7 This action arises from Defendants' alleged involvement with Plaintiff being sex 8 trafficked at their establishments. (See generally Second Am. Compl. ("SAC"), ECF No. 125).
 9 The Court incorporates by reference the detailed factual background stated in its Order 10 Granting Defendants' Motions to Dismiss the First Amended Complaint, (ECF No. 115).
 11 Accordingly, the Court only provides facts that are relevant to the pending Motions to Dismiss.

12 This Court granted Radisson's Motion to Dismiss for lack of personal jurisdiction. (See 13 Order re First Mots. Dismiss, ECF No. 115). It further granted the other Defendants' Motions 14 to Dismiss for failure to state a claim but gave Plaintiff leave to amend her Trafficking Victims 15 Protection Reauthorization Act ("TVPRA") claims and to allege facts that support equitable 16 tolling. (See id.). Plaintiff then filed her SAC asserting claims for violation of 18 U.S.C. § 17 1595, § 1591(a), and § 1591(b). Plaintiff's SAC adds new Defendants: Desert Palace LLC,³ 18 MGM Grand Hotel, LLC, and Tao Group Operating, LLC. The moving Defendants argue that 19 all claims asserted against them in the SAC should be dismissed.

22 ² Under Local Rule 7-2(g), "[a] party may not file supplemental pleadings, briefs, authorities, or evidence 23 without leave of court granted for good cause." Wynn filed a Motion for Leave to File Notice of Supplemental 24 Authority, informing the Court about an order in the District of Nevada that was decided after the parties 25 submitted their briefing on this Motion. (Mot. Leave, ECF No. 159). Plaintiff did not file a Response, or otherwise object to the Motion for Leave. Because Plaintiff does not oppose, and for good cause appearing, the Court GRANTS the Motion for Leave to File Notice of Supplemental Authority. See LR 7-2(d).

³ Defendant Desert Palace LLC was terminated as a party after Plaintiff filed a Notice of Voluntary Dismissal, (ECF No. 160), as to the party.

1 II. LEGAL STANDARD

2 Dismissal is appropriate under Federal Rule Civil Procedure (“FRCP”) 12(b)(6) where a 3 pleader fails to state a claim upon which relief can be granted. Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(6); Bell Atl.
4 Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 555 (2007). A pleading must give fair notice of a legally 5 cognizable claim and the grounds on which it rests, and although a court must take all factual 6 allegations as true, legal conclusions couched as factual allegations are insufficient. Twombly, 7 550 U.S. at 555. Accordingly, FRCP 12(b)(6) requires “more than labels and conclusions, and 8 a formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action will not do.” Id. “To survive a 9 motion to dismiss, a complaint must contain sufficient factual matter, accepted as true, to ‘state 10 a claim to relief that is plausible on its face.’” Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009) 11 (quoting Twombly, 550 U.S. at 570). “A claim has facial plausibility when the plaintiff pleads 12 factual content that allows the court to draw the reasonable inference that the defendant is liable 13 for the misconduct alleged.” Id. This standard “asks for more than a sheer possibility that a 14 defendant has acted unlawfully.” Id.

15 If the court grants a motion to dismiss for failure to state a claim, leave to amend should 16 be granted unless it is clear that the deficiencies of the complaint cannot be cured by 17 amendment. DeSoto v. Yellow Freight Sys., Inc., 957 F.2d 655, 658 (9th Cir. 1992). Pursuant 18 to Rule 15(a), the court should “freely” give leave to amend “when justice so requires,” and in 19 the absence of a reason such as “undue delay, bad faith or dilatory motive on the part of the 20 movant, repeated failure to cure deficiencies by amendments previously allowed undue 21 prejudice to the opposing party by virtue of allowance of the amendment, futility of the 22 amendment, etc.” Foman v. Davis, 371 U.S. 178, 182 (1962).

23 III. DISCUSSION

24 Defendants each argue that the SAC should be dismissed against them for failure to state 25 a claim. In addition, Radisson moves the Court to dismiss the claims against it because the 1 Court previously dismissed the party for lack of personal jurisdiction. The Court first addresses 2 Radisson's argument before moving to the other moving Defendants' arguments.

3 A. Radisson

4 Radisson moves to dismiss the SAC against it, arguing that Plaintiff is prohibited from 5 bringing a claim against it because the Court already dismissed Radisson for lack of personal 6 jurisdiction under FRCP 12(b)(2). (See generally Radisson Mot. Dismiss, ECF No. 130).

7 Indeed, the Court dismissed Radisson as a party in its Order re Defendants' First Motions to 8 Dismiss, finding that it lacks personal jurisdiction over Radisson. (See Order re First Mots.
9 Dismiss 10:13–14). This Court dismissed the claims against Radisson accordingly and did so 10 “without prejudice so that Plaintiff may bring her claims in the appropriate forum if she so 11 wishes.” (Id. 10:16–18)

12 Instead of filing her claims against Radisson in the appropriate forum, Plaintiff re-pled 13 her TVPRA claims against Radisson in her SAC. (See generally SAC). Plaintiff does not 14 include any new allegations relating to the personal jurisdiction analysis. Instead, she asserts 15 that she “recognizes that the Court has dismissed her claims against Defendant Radisson . . .
16 [and] continues to list Radisson in this Second Amended Complaint out of an abundance of 17 caution, solely to ensure that the personal jurisdiction issue remains preserved for appeal.”
18 (SAC ¶ 4(b) n.1); (See generally Resp. to Radisson, ECF No. 136).

19 Plaintiff argues that under Ninth Circuit precedent, the rule is not clear as to when a 20 plaintiff—having lost some of her claims on a motion to dismiss—can safely omit those claims 21 from an amended complaint without forfeiting her appeal. (See generally Resp. to Radisson).
22 The Ninth Circuit's original rule, was that “a plaintiff waives all claims alleged in a dismissed 23 complaint which are not realleged in an amended complaint.” Forsyth v. Humana, Inc., 114 24 F.3d 1467, 1474 (9th Cir. 1997). The Ninth Circuit has softened this rule: “For claims 25 dismissed with prejudice and without leave to amend, we will not require that they be replied in

1 a subsequent amended complaint to preserve them for appeal. But for any claims voluntarily 2 dismissed, we will consider those claims to be waived if not replied.” First Resort, Inc. v.
3 Herrera, 860 F.3d 1263, 1274 (9th Cir. 2017).

4 Here, the Court dismissed Plaintiff’s claims against Radisson based on personal 5 jurisdiction without prejudice. (See Order re First Mots. Dismiss 10:16–18). Thus, the Court 6 understands Plaintiff’s caution in repleading a claim against Radisson because the Radisson 7 claims were not dismissed with prejudice and without leave to amend but they also were not 8 dismissed voluntarily. Plaintiff’s uncertainty about the appealability of her claims against 9 Radisson, however, does not change the Court’s decision to dismiss Radisson as a party.

10 Accordingly, the Court GRANTS Radisson’s Motion to Dismiss. The claims against 11 Radisson are DISMISSED with prejudice for lack of personal jurisdiction. The Court will not 12 exercise its discretion, however, to hold Plaintiff in civil contempt, as suggested by Radisson, 13 because the Court finds that Plaintiff had a good faith basis for naming Radisson in the SAC.
14 (See Radisson Mot. Dismiss 4:5–11).

15 B. TVPRA Claims Against Remaining Defendants

16 Defendants Wynn, MGM Resorts, Aria, MGM Grand, Nevada Property 1, The Light
17 Group, STK, The One Group, and The One Group Hospitality each move to dismiss the SAC 18 arguing that: (1) Plaintiff’s TVPRA claims are largely time barred, (2) Plaintiff is not entitled to 19 equitable tolling, and (3) she otherwise fails to state a claim. (See generally Wynn Mot.
20 Dismiss, ECF No. 132); (MGM Defendants Mot. Dismiss, ECF No. 133); (The Light Group 21 Mot. Dismiss, ECF No. 134); (STK Defendants Mot. Dismiss, ECF No. 135). The Court 22 begins by discussing the timeliness of Plaintiff’s claims and whether she is entitled to equitable 23 tolling before addressing additional timeliness arguments brought in Plaintiff’s Response. The 24 Court will then turn to the merits of Plaintiff’s claims.

1 1. Timeliness and Equitable Tolling

2 The TVPRA requires all claims to be brought within 10 years after either the cause of 3 action arose or the victim reaches 18 years of age, whichever is later. 18 U.S.C. § 1595(c).
4 Here, Plaintiff was over the age of 18 at the time of the alleged trafficking activity. Thus, as it 5 relates to each Defendant, Plaintiff had to assert her TVPRA claim “not later than . . . ten years 6 after the cause of action arose.” Id. Plaintiff initiated this lawsuit against all moving 7 Defendants, except MGM Grand, on November 13, 2023. Plaintiff initiated this lawsuit against 8 MGM Grand on January 27, 2025, when she added it as a named Defendant in her SAC.
9 Accordingly, Plaintiff’s causes of action against MGM Grand that arose before January 27, 10 2015, and her causes of action against the other moving Defendants that arose before 11 November 13, 2013, are time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations unless a tolling 12 doctrine applies.

13 This Court previously held that many of Plaintiff’s claims are untimely. Indeed, the 14 Court held that Plaintiff’s TVPRA claim against Light Group are untimely. (Order re First 15 Mots. Dismiss 13:11–18). It also held that some, but not all, of Plaintiff’s TVPRA claims are 16 clearly time barred as to STK, The One Group, The One Group Hospitality, MGM Resorts, 17 Aria, and Nevada Property 1. The Court specified that Plaintiff’s TVPRA claims against these 18 Defendants are barred as they pertain to events occurring before November 13, 2013, but not 19 after. The Court considered whether Plaintiff’s claims were subject to equitable tolling and 20 found that Plaintiff did not allege facts to support equitable tolling in her FAC. (Order re First 21 Mots. Dismiss 14:2–15:10). The Court gave Plaintiff leave to amend to assert facts for 22 equitable tolling if such facts were available. (Id. 15:6–7). Now the Court turns to whether 23 Plaintiff’s claims, as pled in the SAC, are subject to equitable tolling.

24 Federal statutes of limitation are presumptively subject to equitable tolling. Arellano v.
25 McDonough, 598 U.S. 1, 6 (2023). Equitable tolling requires a plaintiff to show “(1) that [she]

1 has been pursuing [her] rights diligently, and (2) that some extraordinary circumstance stood in 2 [her] way and prevented timely filing.” Menominee Indian Tribe of Wis. v. United States, 577 3 U.S. 250, 255 (2016) (quotation omitted). A plaintiff must demonstrate that she has been 4 “reasonably diligent in pursuing [her] rights not only while an impediment to filing caused by 5 an extraordinary circumstance existed, but before and after as well, up to the time of filing.” 6 Smith v. Davis, 953 F.3d 582, 598–99 (9th Cir. 2020) (en banc). And “it is only when an 7 extraordinary circumstance prevented a petitioner acting with reasonable diligence from 8 making a timely filing that equitable tolling may be the proper remedy.” Id. at 600; see, e.g., 9 Levin v. Sarah Lawrence Coll., No. 23-CV-10236 (LJL), 2024 WL 4026966 *17 (S.D.N.Y.
10 Sept. 3, 2024) (holding equitable tolling was not applicable where plaintiff brought a TVPRA 11 claim nine years after she escaped trafficking because she was no longer under the control of 12 her trafficker). That equitable tolling is applied in “extraordinary circumstances necessarily 13 suggests the doctrine’s rarity, and the requirement that extraordinary circumstances stood in 14 [plaintiff’s] way suggests that an external force must cause the untimeliness, rather than. . .
15 merely oversight, miscalculation or negligence on [the petitioner’s] part, all of which would 16 preclude the application of equitable tolling.” Waldron-Ramsey v. Pacholke, 556 F.3d 1008, 17 1011 (9th Cir. 2009) (internal citations omitted). “The burden of alleging facts which would 18 give rise to tolling falls upon the plaintiff.” Hinton v. Pac. Enters., 5 F.3d 391, 395 (9th Cir.
19 1993).

20 Plaintiff must first allege that she diligently pursued her rights. Menominee Indian Tribe 21 of Wis., 577 U.S. at 255. To that point, she states that it was only after she “made contact with 22 her present counsel did she finally begin to believe that anyone in the legal system might take 23 her suffering seriously.” (SAC ¶ 335). But “after she retained present counsel, Plaintiff 24 diligently participated in the preparation of her complaint, which was filed less than a week 25 later.” (Id. ¶ 337). Plaintiff does not otherwise explain how she diligently pursued her claims

1 after each cause of action arose against the Defendants. Without an allegation of an external 2 extraordinary circumstance that prevented timely filing of her claims, Plaintiff has not plausibly 3 alleged that equitable tolling is applicable to her TVPRA claims. See Waldron-Ramsey, 556 4 F.3d at 1011. Thus, the Court finds that Plaintiff is not entitled to equitable tolling.

5 2. Discovery Rule and Continuing Violations Doctrine

6 In addition to equitable tolling, Plaintiff also advances two additional arguments for why 7 the Court should not dismiss her TVPRA claims as untimely, which the Court addresses below.

8 a. Discovery Rule

9 First, Plaintiff argues that the discovery rule applies to her case. (See, e.g., Resp. to 10 Wynn 15:20–21, ECF No. 150). “Under this rule, accrual is delayed ‘until the plaintiff has 11 ‘discovered’’ his cause of action.” Gabelli v. S.E.C., 568 U.S. 442, 449 (2013) (quoting Merck 12 & Co. v. Reynolds, 559 U.S. 633, 633 (2010)). “The discovery rule exists in part to preserve 13 the claims of victims who do not know they are injured and who reasonably do not inquire as to 14 any injury.” (Id. at 450). “Usually when a private party is injured, he is immediately aware of 15 that injury and put on notice that his time to sue is running.” (Id.). “But when the injury is self-16 concealing, private parties may be unaware that they have been harmed.” (Id.). The discovery 17 rule generally applies to matters where fraud is involved. (See generally id.).

18 The Court finds that the discovery rule does not apply to the TVPRA. The TVPRA’s 19 text states: “No action” for “a violation of this chapter” may be brought any “later than the later 20 of” “10 years after the cause of action arose” or “10 years after the victim reaches 18 years of 21 age.” 18 U.S.C. §§ 1595(a), (c). Considering a statute of limitations that likewise ran from “the 22 date on which the cause of action arose,” the Supreme Court held that this language 23 “incorporates the standard rule that the limitations period commences when the plaintiff has ‘a 24 complete and present cause of action.’” Bay Area Laundry & Dry Cleaning Pension Tr. Fund v.
 25 Ferbar Corp. of Cal., Inc., 522 U.S. 192, 201 (1997) (quoting Rawlings v. Ray, 312 U.S. 96, 98

1 (1941)). A plaintiff has a “complete and present cause of action” once she “has a right to 2 commence it.” Gabelli, 568 U.S. at 448. The TVPRA’s accrual language does not wait until 3 the plaintiff has “discovered” his cause of action, but rather commences when the cause of 4 action arose. Thus, the TVPRA’s text does not appear to incorporate the discovery rule.

5 b. Continuing Violations Doctrine

6 Second, Plaintiff argues that the continuing violations doctrine applies here. (See, e.g., 7 Resp. to Wynn 17:1). “The continuing violations doctrine functions as an exception to the 8 discovery rule of accrual ‘allowing a plaintiff to seek relief for events outside of the limitations 9 period.’” Bird v. Dep’t of Hum. Servs., 935 F.3d 738, 746 (9th Cir. 2019) (quoting Knox v.
 10 Davis, 260 F.3d 1009, 1013 (9th Cir. 2001)). Under this doctrine, “when a defendant’s conduct 11 is part of a continuing practice, an action is timely so long as the last act evidencing the 12 continued practice falls within the limitations period.” Id. (citing Tearpock-Martini v. Borough 13 of Shickshinny, 756 F.3d 232, 236 (3d Cir. 2014)). “[T]he continuing violations doctrine is 14 most frequently seen in the context of employment discrimination suits” but the Ninth Circuit 15 has also applied the doctrine to actions arising under civil rights laws such as § 1983 claims.
 16 (Id.).

17 The Ninth Circuit has not determined whether this doctrine applies to TVPRA claims, 18 but district courts in the Ninth Circuit have considered whether to apply the doctrine in TVPRA 19 cases. In fact, several district courts in this circuit have characterized conduct under the 20 TVPRA as a continuing tort. See, e.g., J.M. v. Choice Hotels Int’l, Inc., No. 2:22-CV-00672, 21 2022 WL 10626493, at *6 (E.D. Cal. Oct. 18, 2022) (applying continuing tort doctrine to 22 TVPRA claims and denying defendants’ motions to dismiss on those grounds); Headley v.
 23 Church of Scientology Int’l, No. CV-09-3987, 2009 WL 10671965, at *6 (C.D. Cal. Aug. 12, 24 2009) (same); A.B. v. Interstate Mgmt. Co., LLC, No. 3:23-CV-00388-IM, 2024 WL 5264652, 25 at *4 (D. Or. Dec. 31, 2024) (finding that the continuing tort doctrine may apply in the case,

1 given the plaintiff's alleged continuous trafficking for a nearly one-month period). But there is 2 at least one case where a court in another circuit declined to apply the continuing tort doctrine 3 to a plaintiff's TVPRA claim and dismissed the complaint on other grounds. See Lundstrom v.
4 Holiday Hosp. Franchising, LLC, No. 1:22-CV-056, 2023 WL 4424725, at *10 (D.N.D. May 5 22, 2023).

6 Applied here, Plaintiff's claim did not accrue until the date of her last alleged injury by 7 each Defendant. Plaintiff generally asserts that she was sex trafficked at each Defendant from 8 2010/2011 until 2017. (See generally SAC). However, a closer reading of the SAC shows that 9 Plaintiff alleges that she was sex trafficked at the Wynn, the Aria, the Cosmopolitan (Nevada 10 Property 1), MGM Resorts, and MGM Grand from 2010 until early 2011, then from mid-2011
11 until to mid-2013, and then again from 2014 to 2017. (Id.). She alleges that she was sex 12 trafficked at the STK Defendants from mid-2011 until to mid-2013, and then again from 2014 13 to 2017. Lastly, Plaintiff alleges that she was sex trafficked at Haze Nightclub (The Light 14 Group) from 2011 until mid-2013.

15 Plaintiff's claims against The Light Group are time barred and not subject to the 16 continuing violations doctrine because the allegations wholly pre-date November 2013. A 17 closer question is whether the doctrine applies to Plaintiff's claims against Wynn, Aria, Nevada 18 Property 1, MGM Grand, MGM Resorts, STK, The One Group, and The One Group 19 Hospitality because of the gaps in Plaintiff's sex trafficking at these Defendants' 20 establishments. TVPRA claims "often by their very nature involve repeated conduct occurring 21 over a series of days, weeks, or more" that together forms a wrongful scheme. A.B., 2024 WL
22 5264652, at *4 (citing Headley, 2009 WL 10671965, at *6). Because the nature of TVPRA 23 claims can involve repeated conduct over a period of time, the Court finds that the continuing 24 torts doctrine applies, despite the gaps in trafficking. Since Plaintiff filed suit on November 13, 25 2023, less than ten years from many of the allegations in the SAC, the trafficking incidents

1 alleged in the SAC against Wynn, Aria, Nevada Property 1, MGM Resorts, STK, The One 2 Group, and The One Group Hospitality are timely such that dismissal at the pleading stage 3 would be premature. Moreover, the claims against MGM Grand are also timely, because 4 Plaintiff states that she only brings claims against MGM Grand for actions that took place from 5 2015–2017, which falls within the statute of limitations because she added MGM Grand as a 6 party in January 2025. (Resp. to MGM Defendants 2:12–13).

7 In sum, because the TVPRA claims alleged against The Light Group wholly pre-date 8 November 2013, The Light Group is DISMISSED as a party to this action and its Motion to 9 Dismiss is GRANTED. Plaintiff's TVPRA claims against the remaining Defendants are timely 10 under the continuing violations doctrine. Thus, the Court will analyze the merits of Plaintiff's 11 TVPRA claims against Wynn, Aria, Nevada Property 1, MGM Resorts, STK, The One Group, 12 The One Group Hospitality, and MGM Grand.

13 3. TVPRA

14 The TVPRA imposes both criminal and civil penalties for sex trafficking.

15 Two provisions of the TVPRA are relevant to this case. First, 18 U.S.C. § 1591(a) 16 provides for criminal penalties for sex trafficking:

17 (a) Whoever knowingly—
18 (1) in or affecting interstate or foreign commerce, ... recruits, entices, harbors, 19 transports, provides, obtains, advertises, maintains, patronizes, or solicits by any means a person; or 20 (2) benefits, financially or by receiving anything of value, from participation in a venture which has engaged in an act described in violation of paragraph (1), 21 knowing, or, except where the act constituting the violation of paragraph (1) is advertising, in reckless disregard of the fact, that means of force, threats of force, 22 fraud, coercion described in subsection (e)(2), or any combination of such means will be used to cause the person to engage in a commercial sex act, or that the 23 person has not attained the age of 18 years and will be caused to engage in a commercial sex act, shall be punished as provided in subsection (b).

25 18 U.S.C. § 1591(a).

1 Second, 18 U.S.C. § 1595 sets forth the standard for civil liability under the TVPRA.

2 That section currently provides:

3 An individual who is a victim of a violation of this chapter may bring a civil 4 action against the perpetrator (or whoever knowingly benefits, or attempts or 5 conspires to benefit, financially or by receiving anything of value from 6 participation in a venture which that person knew or should have known has 7 engaged in an act in violation of this chapter) in an appropriate district court of 8 the United States and may recover damages and reasonable attorney's fees.

9 18 U.S.C. § 1595(a). Thus, § 1595 provides trafficking victims with a private right of action to 10 pursue claims against perpetrators of trafficking as defined in § 1591(a) or those who 11 knowingly financially benefit from trafficking (“beneficiary liability”). Doe v. Mindgeek, 558 12 F. Supp. 3d 828, 835 (C.D. Cal. 2021).

13 The Court previously found that Plaintiff plausibly alleges that she is a victim of sex 14 trafficking under 18 U.S.C. § 1591(a) and has standing to sue under the TVPRA. (Order re First 15 Mots. Dismiss 16:18–23). The TVPRA’s civil provision, § 1595, creates two routes to liability, 16 one for “perpetrator[s]” as defined in the criminal provision and another for those who 17 “knowingly benefit . . . from participation in a venture which that person knew or should have 18 known has engaged in an act in violation of this chapter.” 18 U.S.C. § 1595. But because the 19 term “perpetrator” includes anyone who is criminally liable under either § 1591(a)(1) or 20 § 1591(a)(2), there is effectively three routes to civil liability. First, perpetrator liability under 21 § 1591(a)(1). Second, perpetrator liability under § 1591(a)(2). And third, beneficiary liability 22 under § 1595(a). The Court first addresses beneficiary liability under 18 U.S.C. § 1595(a), 23 before moving on to perpetrator liability under § 1591(a)(1) and/or § 1591(a)(2).

24 a. Beneficiary Liability

25 “To prevail on a theory of beneficiary liability under the TVPRA, a plaintiff must allege 26 that the defendant ‘(1) knowingly benefitted, (2) from participation in a venture [], (3) which 27 they knew or should have known was engaged in conduct that violated the TVPRA.’” A.B. v.

1 Extended Stay America, Inc., 2023 WL 5951390, *5 (W.D. Wash. Sept. 13, 2023) (citing Ratha
 2 v. Phatthana Seafood Co., 35 F.4th 1159, 1175 (9th Cir. 2022)); see also 18 U.S.C. § 1595(a).
 3 The Court previously found that Plaintiff sufficiently pled the first two elements of beneficiary 4 liability against all Defendants.⁴ (See generally Order re First Mots. Dismiss). It also found 5 that Plaintiff plausibly alleged the third element against The Light Group,⁵ Wynn, and STK but 6 not the remaining Defendants, and gave Plaintiff leave to amend the third element accordingly.
 7 (Id. 20:8–12). Thus, the Court turns to discuss whether Plaintiff plausibly alleges that the other 8 remaining Defendants (MGM Resorts, MGM Grand, Nevada Property 1, The One Group, The 9 One Group Hospitality, and Aria) knew or should have known that their venture engaged in 10 conduct that violated the TVPRA.

11 Whether a participant in a venture knew or should have known that the venture engaged 12 in trafficking imposes a negligence standard. Ratha, 35 F.4th at 1177 (explaining that “[t]he 13 phrase ‘knew or should have known’ usually connotes negligence,” which is “a less culpable 14 mental state than actual knowledge or recklessness.”) (quoting Mayview Corp v. Rodstein, 620 15 F.3d 1347, 1358 (9th Cir. 1980); Erickson Prods. Inc. v. Kast, 921 F.3d 822, 833 (9th Cir.
 16 2019)). Another court in this District found, and this Court agrees, that “[i]t is not enough to 17 establish a defendant’s knowledge of general commercial sex taking place at its property.” See 18 Tyla D. v. MGM Resorts Int’l, No. 2:24-CV-00698-APG-BNW, 2024 WL 4839744 *4 (D. Nev.
 19 Nov. 19, 2024). Instead, the complaint must plausibly allege that the defendant knew or should 20 have known of a venture that involved sex trafficking by force, threat of force, fraud, or 21 coercion. See A.B. v. Interstate Mgmt. Co., LLC, 746 F. Supp. 3d 997, 1007 (D. Or. 2024). To 22 establish this prong, TVPRA claims often involve a defendant either directly supporting a sex 23 trafficker or forming a tacit agreement with the trafficker through a continuous business

24
 25 ⁴ Wynn asks the Court to reconsider its position on all three elements. (See generally Wynn Mot. Dismiss). The Court’s disposition on the first two elements remains unchanged.

⁵ The Light Group is now a dismissed party but was not at the time of the Order re the First Motions to Dismiss.

1 relationship. See, e.g., J.M. v. Choice Hotels Int'l, Inc., No. 2:22-cv-00672-KJM-JDP, 2023
2 WL 3456619, at *2 (E.D. Cal. May 15, 2023) (hotel staff rented rooms to trafficker away from 3 other guests and instructed johns to hurry up as they come and go); J.K. v. Ramada Worldwide, 4 Inc., No. 1:23-CV-108-TWT, 2023 WL 5621913, at *2 (N.D. Ga. Aug. 30, 2023) (hotel 5 employees zip-tied the crash bar of a door to keep it from locking so that commercial sex 6 purchasers could enter and exit); Ricchio v. McLean, 853 F.3d 553, 555 (1st Cir. 2017) (hotel 7 operator and trafficker exchanged high fives and spoke of “getting this thing going again” when 8 there were overt signs of sex trafficking); B.J. v. G6 Hosp., LLC, No. 22-cv-03765-MMC, 2023 9 WL 6120682, at *4 (N.D. Cal. Sept. 18, 2023) (hotels had a “continuous business relationship” 10 of renting rooms to traffickers). The Court now discusses whether Plaintiff sufficiently pleads 11 a TVPRA beneficiary liability claim against the remaining Defendants.

12 i. MGM Resorts

13 MGM Resorts is the parent company of the entities who operate the MGM Grand, the 14 Aria, and the Cosmopolitan. (MGM Defendants Mot. Dismiss 4:24–25). The MGM 15 Defendants argue that the SAC runs afoul to FRCP 8 because Plaintiff does not argue any new 16 or material facts against MGM Resorts specifically. (Id. 4:22–5:3). They argue that Plaintiff 17 instead lumps MGM Resorts in with other casino Defendants failing to plead with particularity 18 how MGM Resorts is liable under the TVPRA. (Id.). The Court agrees. Plaintiff’s SAC makes 19 general allegations against all casino Defendants but does not plead a single fact specific to 20 MGM Resorts. (See generally SAC). Under FRCP 8(a)(2), a pleading that states a claim for 21 relief must contain a “short and plain statement of the claim showing that the pleader is entitled 22 to relief.” While the pleading standard under FRCP 8 “does not require ‘detailed factual 23 allegations,’ . . . it demands more than an unadorned, the-defendant-unlawfully-harmed-me-24 accusation.” Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 678. The pleading must contain more than “labels and 25 conclusions” or “‘naked assertion[s]’ devoid of ‘further factual enhancement.’” Id. (quoting

1 Twombly, 550 U.S. at 557)). Plaintiff argues that her pleading style is permissible, but apart
 2 from stating that MGM Resorts is the parent company of other Defendants, she fails to argue 3 how it is liable under the TVPRA. As such, the Court finds that Plaintiff fails to state a 4 TVPRA beneficiary liability claim against Defendant MGM Resorts and therefore DISMISSES 5 the TVPRA beneficiary claim against MGM Resorts. Because the Court previously instructed 6 Plaintiff to plead her interactions with each Defendant with specificity, the Court finds that 7 leave to amend would be futile. (Order re First Mots. Dismiss 23:15–17).

8 ii. MGM Grand

9 Plaintiff alleges that from 2015–2021 she was regularly sent to The Mansion⁶ at MGM 10 Grand to perform calls. (SAC ¶ 183). Plaintiff clarifies, however, that she alleges a TVPRA 11 claim against MGM Grand for her trafficking at The Mansion from 2015 to 2017, which falls 12 within the statute of limitations for this Defendant for the reasons discussed above. (Resp. to 13 MGM Defendants 2:12–13). Plaintiff alleges that an MGM Grand manager, Carl Clayton, 14 would meet her when she arrived at The Mansion. (Id. ¶ 185). Clayton would then walk her to 15 the villa where the guest who had called the escort line was staying. (Id. ¶ 186). Clayton or 16 another employee would also walk Plaintiff back to her car when she left. (Id. ¶ 187). Plaintiff 17 also alleges that on at least one occasion, Clayton entered a room to deliver room service and 18 interrupted the guest and Plaintiff having commercial sex. (Id. ¶ 189). Plaintiff further alleges 19 that Clayton knew that Plaintiff was under the control of Rashid. (Id. ¶ 190).

20 The MGM Defendants argue that Plaintiff fails to allege how the staff at MGM Grand 21 knew or should have known that Plaintiff was compelled to engage in commercial sex through 22 force, threat of force, fraud, or coercion. (MGM Defendants Mot. Dismiss 14:16–19). They 23 further contend that the SAC does not allege any facts demonstrating that MGM Grand 24 observed any acts creating an inference of force, fraud, or coercion. (Id. 15:5–8).

25
 6 The Mansion is a hotel associated with and operated as part of the MGM Grand.

1 In response, Plaintiff argues that The MGM Grand's knowledge of her coerced status 2 was particularly direct and extensive through the actions of Clayton who personally walked 3 Plaintiff to client rooms, giving him extended firsthand observation of her demeanor, 4 appearance, and interactions. (Resp. to MGM Defendants 17:22–25). She further argues that 5 Clayton witnessed Rashid staying at The Mansion with Plaintiff on at least two occasions 6 during which, he observed the controlling dynamic between Rashid and Plaintiff, including 7 their body language, terms of address, and the fact that Rashid arrived with "his" girls rather 8 than ordering escorts through a service. (Id. 17:26–18:1). Plaintiff contends that these 9 observations would have made the coercive nature of the relationship clear to any reasonable 10 observer. (Id. 18:1–2). Plaintiff also alleges that on at least one occasion, Clayton entered a 11 room and interrupted Plaintiff having commercial sex with a client. (SAC ¶ 189). Plaintiff 12 argues that this direct observation of her commercial sexual activity, combined with his 13 knowledge of her relationship with Rashid, put him on clear notice of her status as a victim of 14 human trafficking. (Id. 18:3–6).

15 The Court finds that Plaintiff's allegations plausibly allege that MGM Grand knew or 16 should have known, for purposes of beneficiary liability, that it engaged in sex trafficking by 17 force, threat of force, fraud, or coercion based on Clayton's interactions with Plaintiff and 18 Rashid. See A.B., 2024 WL 3905482, at *6. The Court agrees with Plaintiff that Clayton's 19 observations would have made the coercive nature of the relationship between Plaintiff and 20 Rashid clear to a reasonable observer. Thus, the Court DENIES the Motion to Dismiss as to 21 the TVPRA beneficiary claim against Defendant MGM Grand.

22 iii. Aria

23 Plaintiff pleads general allegations that she was trafficked at the Aria. (See generally 24 SAC). Plaintiff lumps Aria in with other Defendants and states that "[o]n several occasions, 25 Rashid brought [Plaintiff] and several other Priority Girls with him when he gambled at the 1 casino Defendant's properties where he expected his scantily clad girls to compete for his 2 attention by waiting on him hand and foot." (SAC ¶¶ 242, 244). She also pleads that "[n]o 3 reasonable observer of the dynamic between Rashid and the Priority Girls could have believed 4 that it did not involve some form of fraud or coercion on Rashid's part." (SAC ¶ 243). While 5 these allegations attempt to support the third element of a beneficiary claim, they fall short 6 because these allegations are not plead with sufficient particularity. Thus, Plaintiff does not 7 plead facts that establish a plausible TVPRA claim against Aria. Accordingly, the Court 8 DISMISSES the TVPRA beneficiary claim against Aria. Because the Court previously 9 instructed Plaintiff to plead her interactions with each Defendant with specificity, the Court 10 does not give Plaintiff leave to amend because it finds that amendment would be futile.

11 iv. Nevada Property 1

12 Nevada Property 1 operates the casino hotel The Cosmopolitan. (Id. ¶ 5). Plaintiff's 13 SAC only makes general allegations against Nevada Property 1 and alleges that she met clients 14 at the Cosmopolitan during the relevant time period. (See generally id.). Plaintiff does not 15 plead facts that establish that Nevada Property 1 knew or should have known that she was 16 being trafficked. Her SAC merely establishes that Nevada Property 1 may have known that she was 17 engaged in commercial sex work, which is not enough to establish a claim under the TVPRA.
18 (Id. ¶ 302); see, e.g., Tyla D., 2024 WL 4839744, at *4. Therefore, the Court finds Plaintiff has 19 not pled sufficient facts to establish a plausible claim for beneficiary liability as to Nevada 20 Property 1. Because Plaintiff was on notice that a Defendant's knowledge of commercial sex 21 work is not enough to plead a TVPRA beneficiary claim, the Court does not grant leave to 22 amend this claim because it finds that doing so would be futile. (See Order re First Mots.
23 Dismiss 19:7–9, 21:15–18). Thus, the Court DISMISSES the TVPRA beneficiary claim 24 against Nevada Property 1.

v. The One Group and The One Group Hospitality

The One Group and The One Group Hospitality operate STK, a steakhouse located inside the Cosmopolitan. (SAC ¶ 6). Plaintiff's SAC lumps The One Group and The One Group Hospitality together, along with STK, as the "STK Defendants" but does not plead a single fact specific to The One Group and The One Group Hospitality. (See generally SAC). In this Court's Order re Defendants' First Motions to Dismiss, the Court instructed Plaintiff to plead her interactions with each Defendant with specificity. (Order re First Mots. Dismiss 23:15–17). Because Plaintiff failed to do so in her SAC, the Court finds that Plaintiff again fails to state a TVPRA beneficiary claim against Defendants The One Group and The One Group Hospitality. Thus, the Court DISMISSES the TVPRA beneficiary claim against The One Group and The One Group Hospitality without leave to amend.

vi. Wynn and STK

13 Wynn and STK move to dismiss Plaintiff’s TVPRA beneficiary claims against them.
14 The Court previously held, however, that Plaintiff pled a plausible TVPRA beneficiary claim 15 against Wynn and STK. (Id. 20:8–9). For the reasons discussed in the Court’s Order re First 16 Motions to Dismiss, the Court still finds that Plaintiff has sufficiently pled that Wynn and STK 17 may be liable for violations of the TVPRA under beneficiary liability. Thus, Wynn and the 18 STK Defendant’s Motions to Dismiss are DENIED as to this claim.

vii. Beneficiary Liability Claims Conclusion

20 In sum, the TVPRA beneficiary claims against the following Defendants are dismissed 21 without leave to amend: MGM Resorts, Aria, Nevada Property 1, The One Group, and The One 22 Group Hospitality. The beneficiary claims against Wynn, STK, and MGM Grand will move 23 forward. The Court now addresses Plaintiff's TVPRA perpetrator liability claims.

1 b. Perpetrator Liability

2 Plaintiff alleges that Defendants violated § 1591(a)(1) and (2) of the TVPRA. (SAC 3 ¶ 384). A “perpetrator” of sex trafficking can be either a direct violator under § 1591(a)(1) or a 4 participant under § 1591(a)(2), but both contain an actual knowledge component. Acevedo v.
5 eXp Realty, LLC, 713 F. Supp. 3d 740, 766 (C.D. Cal. 2024) (citing Geiss v. Weinstein, 383 F.
6 Supp. 3d 156, 167, n. 3 (S.D.N.Y. 2019)). As explained in the beneficiary liability section, the 7 Court finds that Plaintiff failed to sufficiently plead facts to satisfy a negligence standard (i.e.
8 that these Defendants knew or should have known the ventures engaged in sex trafficking) as to 9 MGM Resorts, the Aria, Nevada Property 1, The One Group, and The One Group Hospitality.
10 Because perpetrator liability requires a showing of actual knowledge—a higher standard than 11 negligence—Plaintiff has likewise failed to state a TVPRA perpetrator liability claim as to 12 these Defendants. See Acevedo, 713 F. Supp. 3d at 766. Accordingly, the Court DISMISSES 13 the TVPRA perpetrator liability claims against MGM Resorts, Aria, Nevada Property 1, The 14 One Group, and The One Group Hospitality. Because all claims alleged against these 15 Defendants have been dismissed, the Court DISMISSES MGM Resorts, Aria, Nevada Property 16 1, The One Group, and The One Group Hospitality as parties to this lawsuit with prejudice.
17 The Court now turns to address the merits of Plaintiff’s TVPRA perpetrator liability claims 18 against Wynn, STK, and MGM Grand.

19 i. Direct Violator

20 To establish direct violator perpetrator liability, Plaintiff must adequately plead that 21 Wynn, STK, and MGM Grand knowingly and in interstate or foreign commerce: (1) “recruits, 22 entices, harbors, transports, provides, obtains, or maintains by any means a person”; (2) 23 “knowing, . . . or in reckless disregard of the fact, that means of force, threats of force, fraud. . .
24 or any combination of such means will be used”; (3) “to cause the person to engage in a 25 commercial sex act.” 18 U.S.C. § 1591(a)(1).

1 As to the first element, Plaintiff's SAC is devoid of any allegation that Wynn, STK, or 2 MGM Grand knowingly recruited, enticed, harbored, transported, provided, obtained, or 3 maintained her. (See generally SAC). In Plaintiff's Responses, she argues at length that Wynn, 4 STK, and MGM Grand harbored or provided her. (Resp. to Wynn 12:20); (Resp. to STK 5 Defendants 9:15–16); (Resp. to MGM Defendants 13:5–6). But Plaintiff cannot amend her 6 pleading through her responsive brief. See, e.g., Riser v. Cent. Portfolio Control Inc., No. C21-7 5238LK, 2022 WL 2209648, at *4 n.1 (W.D. Wash. June 21, 2022); see also Frenzel v.
 8 AliphCom, 76 F. Supp. 3d 999, 1009 (N.D. Cal. 2014) (“It is axiomatic that the complaint may 9 not be amended by the briefs in opposition to a motion to dismiss.”). Plaintiff's failure to 10 allege sufficient factual matter in her SAC that, accepted as true, would state a claim violation 11 of § 1591(a)(1) is fatal to her claim. Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 678. Thus, Plaintiff fails to plausibly 12 allege this element.

13 As to the second and third elements, Plaintiff plausibly alleges that Wynn, MGM Grand, 14 and STK knew, or at the very least recklessly disregarded, that means of force, threats of force, 15 fraud, or any combination of such means was used to cause Plaintiff to engage in a commercial 16 sex act.⁷ Defendants dispute that her SAC sufficiently pleads knowledge or reckless disregard.
 17 But knowledge does not require “certainty as to a future act,” rather it “is a state of mind in 18 which the knower is familiar with a pattern of conduct.” United States v. Todd, 627 F.3d 329, 19 334 (9th Cir. 2010). Importantly, “knowledge, and other conditions of a person's mind may be 20 alleged generally” in the SAC. Fed. R. Civ. P. 9(b). Plaintiff's SAC indeed pleads that the 21 remaining Defendants' employees knew she was being trafficked and provides reasons that 22 bolster this allegation. (See, e.g., SAC ¶ 93–95, 240–250). Wynn argues that it cannot be held 23 liable for its employees' actions, but the Court disagrees at this stage. To plead perpetrator

24
 25 ⁷ Plaintiff is correct that this element can be satisfied by either pleading that Defendant had actual knowledge that the victim would be coerced into commercial sex or acted in reckless disregard of the fact that the victim would be coerced. (Resp. Wynn 9:11–15).

1 liability, Plaintiff “must plausibly allege that the casinos or their employees were perpetrators 2 under the TVPRA.” See Tyla D., 2024 WL 4839744, at *4 (emphasis added). Thus, the Court 3 finds that Plaintiff plausibly alleges these elements at the Motion to Dismiss stage.

4 Because Plaintiff fails to allege the first element of direct violator perpetrator liability, 5 Plaintiff’s § 1591(a)(1) claim is DISMISSED against each of these Defendants. But, because 6 Plaintiff’s Responses allege more facts than her SAC that go to whether Defendants knowingly 7 recruited, enticed, harbored, transported, provided, obtained, or maintained her, the Court finds 8 that amendment would not be futile. Thus, Plaintiff is granted leave to amend to plead facts 9 that plausibly allege the first element, if such facts exist.

10 ii. Participant

11 To establish participant perpetrator liability, Plaintiff must plausibly plead:

12 “Whoever knowingly” “benefits, financially or by receiving anything of value,” “from 13 participation in a venture which has engaged in an act described in violation of 14 [(a)(1)]”—i.e., “knowingly assisting, supporting, or facilitating a violation of [(a)(1)]”— 15 knowing or recklessly disregarding that “force . . . , fraud, [or] coercion . . . will be used 16 to cause the person to engage in a commercial sex act.”

17 18 U.S.C. §§ 1591(a)(2), (e)(4).

18 Wynn, MGM Grand, and STK each move to dismiss the § 1591(a)(2) claim pled against 19 them. (Wynn Mot. Dismiss 6:6–7); (MGM Defendants Mot. Dismiss 17:24–27); (STK 20 Defendants Mot. Dismiss 4:26). It is unclear to the Court whether Plaintiff abandons her 21 § 1591(a)(2) claim in her Responses to these Defendants because she only responds to their 22 arguments about the § 1591(a)(1) claim. (See generally Resp. to Wynn); (see generally Resp. to 23 MGM Defendants); (see generally Resp. to STK Defendants); see LR 7-2(d) (“The failure of an 24 opposing party to file points and authorities in response to any motion. . . constitutes a consent 25 to the granting of the motion.”). Despite Plaintiff’s failure to respond to Defendants’ arguments as to participant perpetrator liability, the Court nonetheless addresses the merits of 1 Plaintiff's claim because there is a preference in federal court for cases to be decided on the 2 merits. Here, the SAC adequately pleads that Wynn, MGM Grand, and STK knowingly 3 benefitted financially from participation in a venture. (See SAC ¶¶ 254, 256, 260, 264, 385).

4 However, because Plaintiff fails to plausibly allege that Defendants' ventures engaged in an act 5 described in violation of § 1591(a)(1) (direct violator perpetrator liability) for the reason 6 discussed above, the Court finds that Plaintiff's § 1591(a)(2) (participant perpetrator liability)
7 claim likewise fails. Because amendment would not be futile though, the Court grants Plaintiff 8 leave to amend this claim accordingly. Thus, Plaintiff's § 1591(a)(2) claim against Wynn, 9 MGM Grand, and STK is DISMISSED with leave to amend.

10 In sum, Plaintiff's beneficiary claims pled against Wynn, MGM Grand, and STK 11 remain. Plaintiff's perpetrator liability claims as to Wynn, MGM, and STK are DISMISSED.
12 Because amendment would not be futile, the Court grants Plaintiff leave to amend her 13 perpetrator liability claims only against Wynn, MGM Grand, and STK.
